Dedication

Miss Ruth Yinger

Miss Ruth Yinger came to Lemon-Monroe High School in 1947. She has served four years as home economics instructor and has sponsored many different activities and clubs. Through her understanding of school problems, she has helped many students to attain a better knowledge of school and social life. Her patience and cheerfulness are outstanding virtues.

We, the class of '51, are highly honored to dedicate our Lemon-Monroe Monocle to Miss Ruth Yinger.

A Newsy Note

San Francisco
California
June 2, 1971

Dear Suzie,

I haven't seen you since we graduated 20 years ago. I have just returned from Hawaii. While there I watched those lovely Hawaiian dancers -- Jenny Meadows, Phyllis Owens, Doris Thornsburg Tudor, Marie Tibbs, and Wapella Walder. Accompanying them on their guitars were Bob Bryan, Vernon Centers, Bob Everhart, and Louis Sanders.

You'll never guess who I saw while there! Mr. and Mrs. Charles Joy, the former Ruth Taulbee, Hearldean Johnson and wife, Charlotte Chilton, who are partners in the J and J Oil Well.

The Captain of the luxury liner was Bill Dennis. His able crew was composed of Ed Birkhimer, Glenn Barker, and Theron Long.

Faye Stamper Charleston was the hostess, with Lloyd Creech Jim Davis, and Larry Crist as head waiters. Pat Cooke, Ada Hale, Gaynol Patton, and Dora Terry prepared the wonderful meals.

Oh, Suzie, do you remember our Monocle advisor, Mr. F. J. Schmieder? One night his 12 children were crying and he had to amuse them, so he jumped overboard. M'Della Williams, the English Channel swimmer, rescued him. Doctors Glenn Dye and Bob Chambers saves his life with the help of Mary Craycraft, Rose Mary Scobin, and Patsy Lucas, Registered Nurses.

My first night in Hawaii I visited a famous niteclub owned by Don Dumbord and Homer Fultz. As I entered the door, I was greeted by Velma Pressler Goodman and Wilma Leonard, the hat-check girls.

There was a wonderful floor show. It began with the chorus line made up of those lovely girls, Joan Rader, Janet Speigle Thatcher, Pat Selby Anthony, Pat Townsend Rossi, Madge Pasley, Midlred McCoy and Patsy Byers Boxwell. Jim Collier and June Ihle with their "Dancing Feet", were featured next.

Pat Runkles and Mary Newman were the vocalists with Jim Wills and Ed Peterman's band. Members of the band were Forrest Swango, Jim Kemp, Vernon Kowell, Bob Niederman, and Dick Wilson.

I went to the barber shop the next day and found my old friends Marge Halsey and Ann Kinser were co-owners. Their assistants were Hazel Hill, Betty Howell Miller, Dorothy Eaton, and Janet Eiler.

I watched Dotty Gabbard and Cathy Curton Deaton's baseball team with the World Series. Players were Jean Busby, Frances Burgher, Eva Hampton, LaVern Moore, Sue Farquer, Sue Taylor Duff, and Roxie Evans. Umpires were Rebecca Unger and M'Della Williams.

Also playing were Larry Hensley and Jim Harrison's "All American" football team. The star players were Wayne Hayes, Dewey Lawson, Charles Doebler, Gene Gilbert, Don Hall, Jim Johnston, Jack Muncy, Don Ponder, Jack Reidel, Doug Stallsmith, and Fred Good. Referees for the game were Fred Carroll, Reese Wise, Lowell Strayer, and Smith Majors. Larry's wife, Mary LaFayette Hensley, with millions of others, gave support to the team. During the half Normal Barnes led the "All American" band.

I also visited Bill Anthony and Barbara Preusch's art school. Among their pupils are Barbara Moore and Mary Sue Harris.

On my way home I stopped in Cincinnati to see the Ice Follies. The skating stars were our old school chums, Lois Duff Botos, Ruth Gingerich, Jean Hughes Druer, Delores Sabota, Peg Trimble Eisle, Gene Cole, Clarence Tusing, Dick Hinds, and Bill Kesterman. I saw the wonderful "Dogpatch Race"! Mary Hardeman and Bill Childers provided the hillbilly music, while Jimmie Powers, Jean Lee, and Shirley Springfield chased after Bill Landis, Al McIntosh, and Von Ketron.

My New York Journal has just arrived and I notice that Norma Viel is the editor with Don Bell, Lois Sparks, Lorine Cornett, Jim Wander, and Pauline Moore as reporters.

A little farther down the page I see that Gaye Sorrell Meeks has just become an assistant in the O'Dell Funeral Home. Helping in the funeral home are: Cathy Geary, Wanda Whisman, and Jerry Hammond.

I also see that Dina DeBolt Herring is an assistant in the Julliard Music School. The music faculty is composed of Elaine Loxley, Vernon Banks, and Peg Heflin.

That's all the news at present but I shall write again soon.

Your friend,

Monroe H. Monocle

May Vict'ry Spread Thy Fame

December 2 - Trenton 40, Monroe 42.

The first game of the year proved to be a thriller, with everyone kept guessing what team would finally be the victor.

December 8 - Springfield 62, Monroe 30.

The team played an excellent game until the last quarter; then the height advantage of last year's "State Champs" took over and the game ended in Springfield's favor.

December 16 - Sidney 49, Monroe 47.

Another thrilling game, this one also favored the opposing team.

December 22 - Hamilton Public 64, Monroe 32.

Our boys put up a fine fight against a very rough team and were courageous in defeat.

December 29 - Dunbar 62, Monroe 28.

Monroe met and stood up against another tough team. Our boys played a good game but the swiftness and height of the opposing team defeated them.

January 5 - Wilimgton 26, Monroe 52.

This was a very exciting game for Monroe fans as the team worked together for the victory over Wilmington.

January 19 - Norwood 38, Monroe 46.

A thrilling game with the Hornets displaying great team work and coming up with another win.

January 20 - Xenia O.S.S.O. 52, Monroe 49.

This game was a battle to the finish, but Xenia came out ahead with a "lucky" basket.

February 3 - Hamilton Catholic 54, Monroe 45.

The winning streak for the Hornets was broken when the "Rams" outscored our boys.

January 27 - Vandalia Butler 43, Monroe 42.

The moment the game began the Hornet fans knew they were to see a "swell" game. It was a breath-taking game until the last basket was shot.

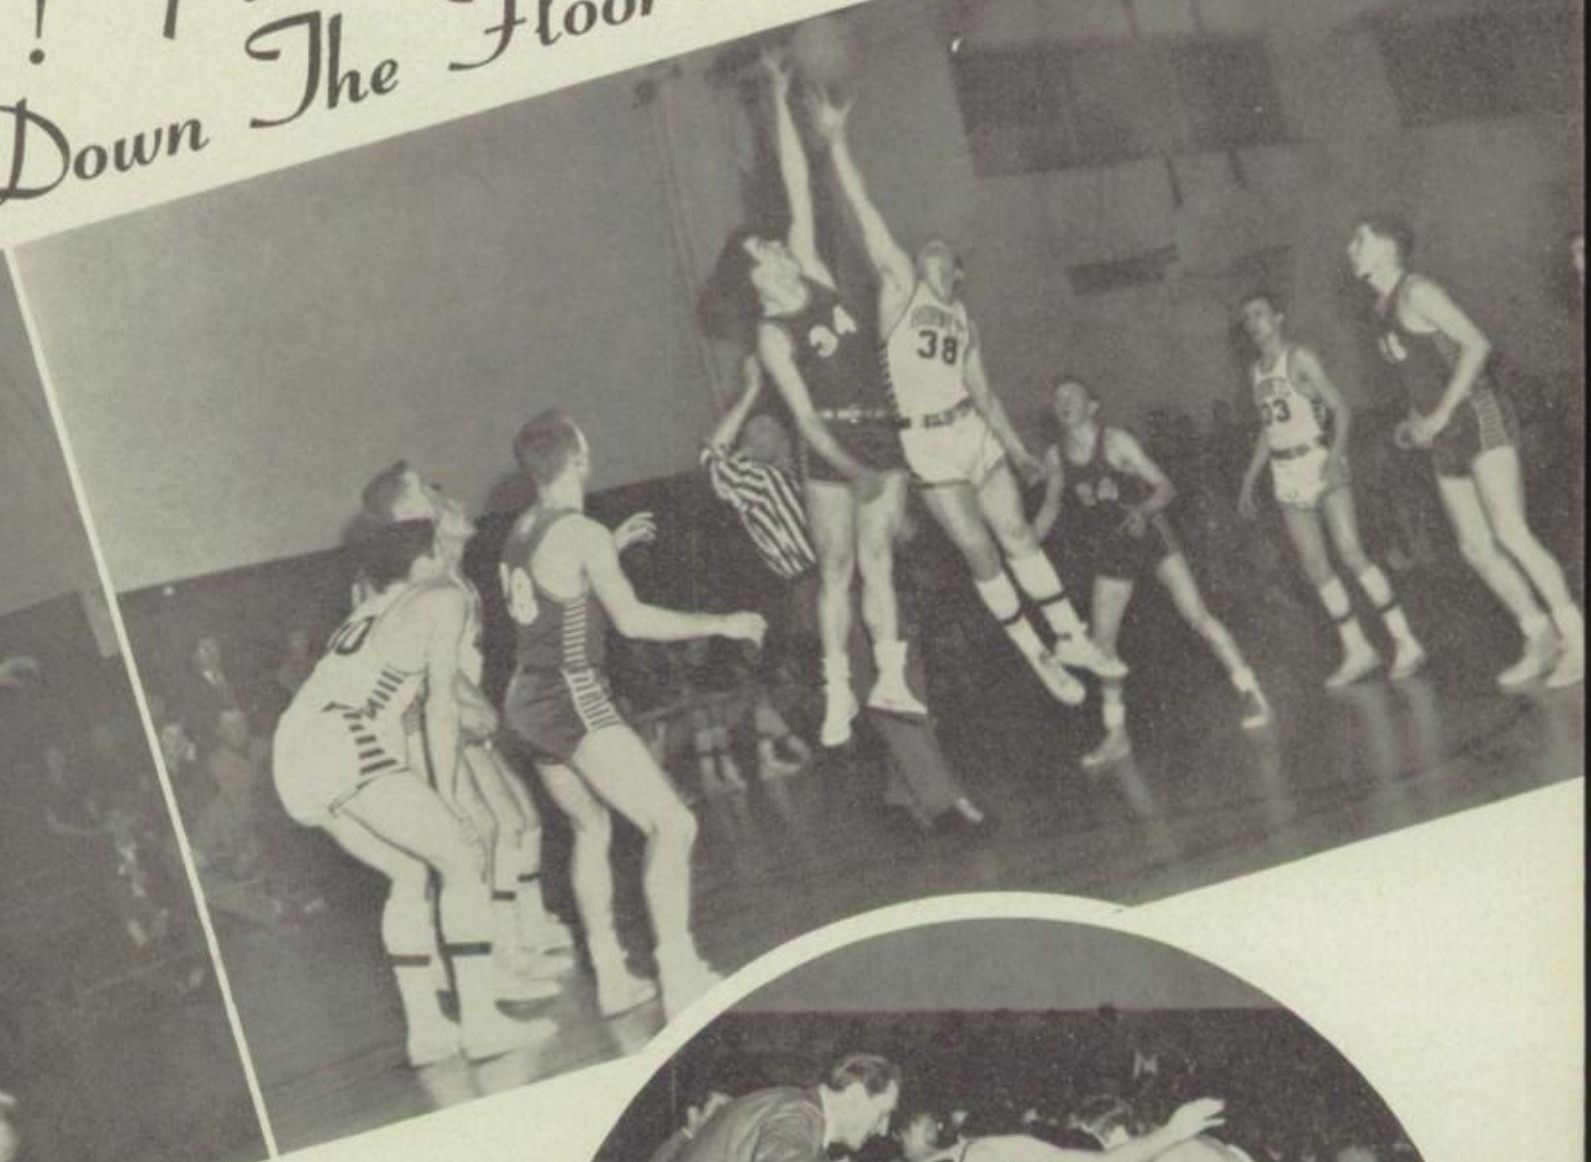
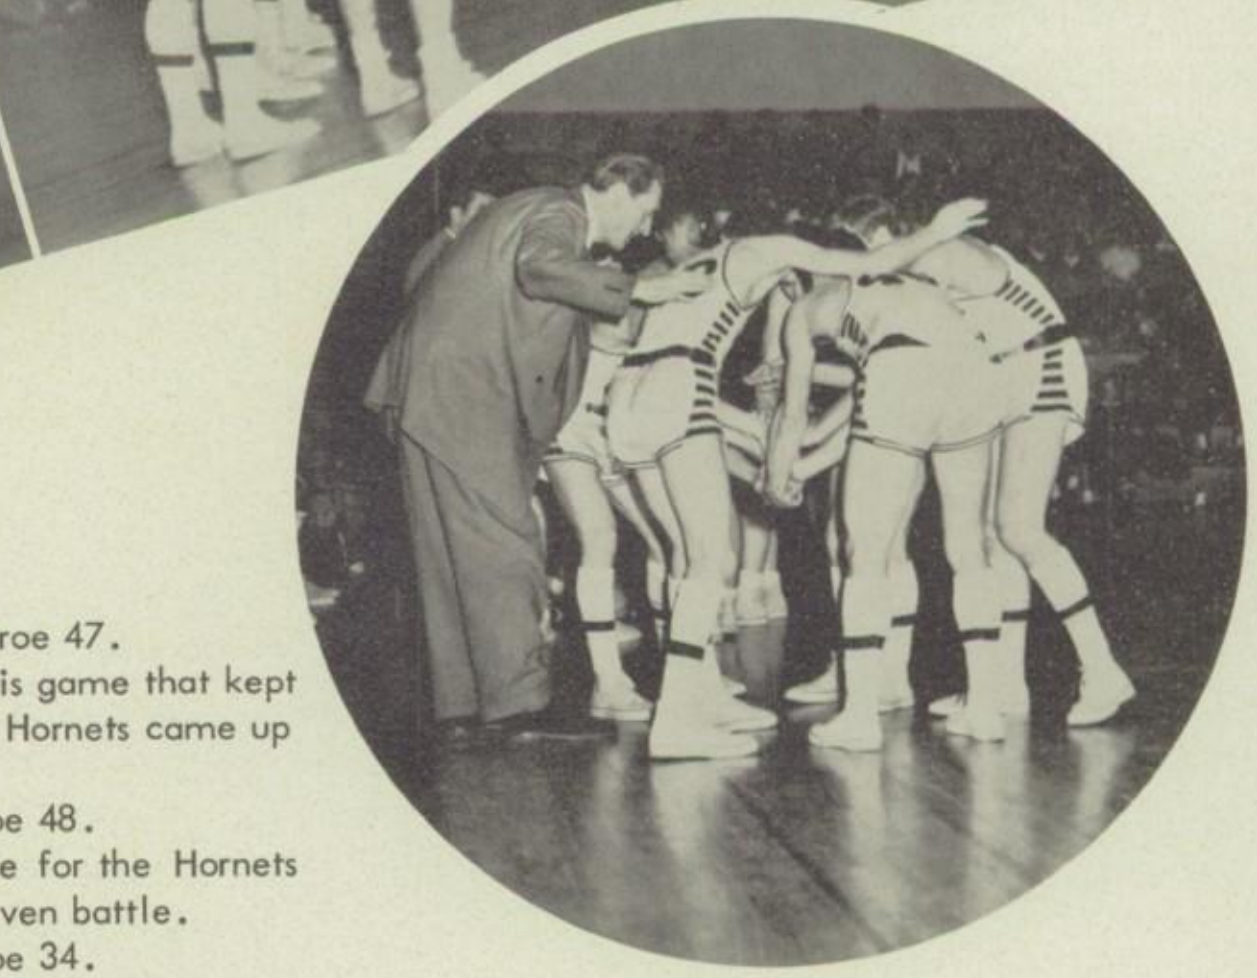
Shoot 'em! Pass 'em! Dribble Down The Floor!





February 9 - Northridge 44, Monroe 47.
Every basket connected in this game that kept the spectators on their toes. The Hornets came up with one more win.

February 10 - Franklin 68, Monroe 48.
It was a heartbreaking game for the Hornets when Franklin won this Little Seven battle.

February 16 - Lebanon 55, Monroe 34.
Being one of Monroe's greatest basketball competitors, Lebanon pulled away from the Hornets in the last quarter to win by a wide margin.

February 23 - Chaminade 48, Monroe 26.
Both teams played a very good game but Chaminade proved to be the more powerful.

February 24 - Miamisburg 52, Monroe 51.
The boys really made the scoreboard flash all during this game. The teams were well matched and both played a wonderful game. It was felt that our boys "won" this game in spite of the score.

Editors, staff heads, and typists discuss this year's Monocle plans. The result of adequate planning--a better yearbook.

Comparing a person's life to that of a book, members of the Monocle Staff developed the idea that a student's life in school presents a few of the most interesting and memorable chapters from the "book of life." The familiar lines from the "Marching Song" and "Monroe Alma Mater", which appear on various pages of the Monocle, will be remembered by students through all the chapters of their lives.

The editor, literary editor, and sports editor take notes while the assistant editor confers with the typists. To help pay off a Monocle debt, staff members have collected sales tax stamps, which are here being sorted, counted, and packaged.

Sweetheart Dance

On February 19, 1951, the third Sweetheart Dance was held at Monroe High School. Ruth Taulbee and Charles Joy were chosen as the royal couple for the eve. Gaye Sorrell, last year's queen, crowned both.

King Charles then commanded the court entertainers to perform a skit called "Cupid's Capers". It revolved around a couple who had had a quarrel and then made up when, with Cupid's assistance, they began thinking of the good things they had shared since last year's dance.

The lunchroom was decorated in a Valentine theme with sparkling hearts and cupids hanging from the ceiling. The entrance way was made into an arch with red and white streamers out in the pattern of a large heart. A large white heart with red crepe paper ruffles adorned the royal throne. "Cupid's Capers" was written across the heart in glittering red letters.

Couples from Monroe, alumni, and surrounding schools danced from 8:30 to 11:30 to the music of the Maestro Men, M.H.S. dance band, under the direction of Herman Slayman.

Chaperons for the gala affair were Mr. and Mrs. Ewalt, Miss Maria Fiori, Mr. Paul Ruark, and Mr. Clyde Bartlett.

The Monroe Mercury sponsored the dance and spent much time and effort to make this dance a great success.

Homecoming Coronation

On November 3, 1951, Monroe added another "first" to its long list of activities--"Homecoming". This program was introduced by Herman Slayman and it proved to be a huge success.

A highly honored and deserving couple, Pat Townsend and Jim Harrison, were elected by members of the senior class.

Three trumpeters led the King and Queen to the throne between two files of bandsmen which extended across the field. The cheerleaders were the Queen's worthy attendants.

Ray Lovely, President of the Alumni Association, presented the Royal Couple to the audience. Larry Hensley, co-captain of the football team, presented a lovely bouquet of red roses to Queen Pat.

After the coronation, the band serenaded the King and Queen with several maneuvers on the theme of love.

Elaborate decorations and preparations were planned by the Music and Athletic Departments.

It is felt that "Homecoming" will now take its place beside the other traditions of Monroe High School.
